Master systems

Several master groups with sub-master groups and individual keys are combined under a grand master key according to the company’s management structure. Typical applications are administration buildings, industrial buildings, etc.

The Simple Master Key System
A system with keyed to differ cylinders and a superior Master Key.

The Central Locking System with or without Technical Master Key

Each flat is provided with keyed to differ cylinders; the flat owners can lock both, their flat and the main entrance door with their individual key. In addition to this a technical master key, which opens all technical rooms, can be planned.
